History and Origin of America's National Ice Cream Day:

In 1984, US President Ronald Reagan made July National Ice Cream Month. He also announced the third Sunday in July as National Ice Cream Day.

Where did ice cream come from?

- During the 5th century in ancient Greece; people ate ice mixed with honey and fruits.
- In 200 BC a frozen mix of milk and rice was introduced in China.
- In the 1500s, ice cream started to spread through Europe, but at first only the richest people could afford it.
